

Good news to share!

My Mother is a resident of Villa Forum Long Term Care Home. She tested positive for COVID-19 on Good Friday. We were all devastated. At 100 years of age, we thought this would surely mean that she would succumb to the virus. Under the care of the AMAZING staff who dedicate their days to showing up and caring for the residents, I am happy to say that I was informed yesterday that she tested negative for COVID-19. I truly believe the staff at Villa forum should be recognized for the outstanding care and the amazing way they have handles the virus in the home.

My mother has lived through wars, the Great Depression, outliving her parents, her six siblings, my own father and three of her children. She does have myself and my brother, our spouses, 9 grandchildren, 18 great grandchildren who have all been cheering her on during her illness. She continues to amaze us all.

She is not very happy that she (and all the other residents) have to stay in their rooms. She misses our family, the other residents and defiantly misses Bingo night at the Villa Forum. However, throughout the illness, my mom still worried about her hair being styled and that she wears her matching outfits complete with her colourful necklaces every single day! You fed her, cleaned her room, dressed her and kept her on the right medications and offered mental health support. WOW... there is no way we could have done all of that for her.... but YOU did. You all make a difference in the world. Thank you

We couldn't get into see her, but we did park in the driveway outside her window and waived. Just look at her smile!

GOD BLESS THE STAFF AT VILLA FORUM. WE LOVE YOU!
